BRANDON DREW FALSETTO GUILTY OF LURING A MINOR,
PRIVATE INDECENCY

HILLSBORO, Ore- On December 16, 2025, Washington County Circuit Court Judge Theodore Sims found Brandon Drew Falsetto, age 29, guilty of two counts of luring a minor and one count of private indecency in a bench trial. Deputy District Attorney Rayney Meisel prosecuted this case.

The defendant was known to the victim's mother and provided childcare to the child while the mother worked. While babysitting, he showed the victim a video of himself having sexual intercourse with a woman. On a different day, he brought the victim to a sauna at their condominium complex and masturbated in front of the child.

The defendant, who was on probation for unlawful use of a weapon and assault 4 domestic violence convictions, jumped from his third-floor balcony when law enforcement attempted to speak with him about these allegations. He was arrested and taken to the hospital.

The Washington County District Attorney's Office commends the victim for reporting this abuse. This office also thanks the Hillsboro Police Department for its work on this case.

A sentencing hearing is scheduled for February 4, 2026. The defendant will remain in custody pending sentencing.
